I am conscious of the efforts being made by the enemies of the workers to further enslave them and am anxious to do all in my power to defeat their program. I also realize the need of a press that is friendly to the workers. For these reasons I desire to become a regular reader of LABOR and send herewith $2.00, covering a year's subscription.

Docket No. 107—Interpretation No. 19 to Decision No. 2.

(Note:—The principles herein outlined shall also govern in the adjudication of similar questions which may arise in the application of Decisions 3 and 5.)

Question—Back pay under the provisions of Decision No. 2, (Dockets 1, 2, and 3).

Statement—Numerous questions have arisen as to the payment of back time to employees who were in the service of the carriers named in Decision No. 2 on May 1, 1920, the effective date of said decision, or who entered the service subsequent to May 1, 1920, but who died while in the service or who left the service for various causes prior to July 20, 1920, the date of issuance of Decision No. 2 (Dockets 1, 2 and 3).

Section 1, Article XIII of Decision No. 2, reads:

> "The increases in wages and the rates hereby established shall be effective as of May 1, 1920, and are to be paid according to the time served to all who were then in the carriers' service and remained therein, or who have since come into such service and remained therein."

Decision—The Board decides the following shall govern in the allowance of back pay under Decision No. 2:

(1) Employees in the service of the carrier 12:01 a. m., July 20, 1920, are entitled to back pay for service performed during the retroactive period of the decision, except employees who left the service in the interim for various causes and later returned, in which case the following paragraphs shall govern in determining whether or not back pay shall be allowed for all time worked during such period, or only from the last date of employment.

(2) Employees in the service of the carrier 12:01 a. m., May 1, 1920, the effective date of the decision, or who entered the service subsequent to such date, but who were laid off on account of reduction in force, and for this reason were not in the service 12:01 a. m., July 20, 1920, shall be allowed back pay for services performed during the retroactive period.

(3) Employees in the service of the carrier 12:01 a. m., May 1, 1920, or who entered the service subsequent to such date, but who resigned or left the service voluntarily prior to 12:01 a. m., July 20, 1920, are not entitled to back pay.

(4) Employees who performed service during the retroactive period of Decision No. 2, but who had to leave the service prior to July 20, 1920, by reason of being incapacitated for duty by sickness or injury, shall be allowed back pay for service performed upon satisfactory proof of their condition, as stated.

(5) Employees dismissed from the service for any reason are entitled to back pay for service performed during the retroactive period, except such employees who voluntarily suspended work and come within the scope of Order No. 1 and Decision No. 1 issued by the Board under the dates of April 19 and 20, 1920, respectively.

(6) Back pay shall be allowed the duly authorized beneficiaries of employees who died while in the service during the retroactive period, for service therein performed.

(7) Employees granted leave of absence by the carrier by which employed are entitled to back pay for service performed, provided they did not accept other employment during such leaves of absence, and returned to service when needed or notified to do so.

(8) Employees who resigned voluntarily to accept or secure employment at some other point on the same road or on another road or elsewhere are not entitled to back pay for any time worked for any carrier excepting the time worked for the carrier by whom last employed.

(9) Employees transferred by the carrier from one point or department to another point or department on the same railroad or to another railroad under the same management by reason of promotion or otherwise, shall be allowed back pay for time served during the retroactive period.

Chairman.

UNION MAN AND A MEMBER OF THE UNION.

The member of the union is the man that pays his dues only when he is forced to. Usually comes to the meetings only when he has an axe to grind. He is the man that will always say that the union has never given him anything, as he would get good wages if there never was a union in existence. And he cannot see what the officers are doing with all the money. The union man is very different. He attends his meeting regularly, takes part in the debate that is in the interest of the union, never permits himself to be suspended always ready to extend a friendly hand or act to any brother that may be in distress. You can find him in a union shop because he is a union man at heart. And to day the great labor movement is carried on by the union men and not by the so-called members of the union. The union man criticizes when criticism is justified and fights for what he thinks is right. The so-called member of a union kicks at all things, but never fights for anything.

A. J. Dupuy.

RESIST.

Wages must be cut
Is all that we can hear,
We'll start upon the Railroad men
And cut them don't fear.

First we'll reduce the forces
To bring them to their feet,
Then we'll shut the shop down
And make a clean sweep.

We are going to down the Unions
The National Agreements must go,
If it takes every dollar
Of the Railroad Company's dough.

This is very poor business
We'll admit to that all right,
For everything we eat and wear
Is still out of sight.

You read the evening paper
Water Company get a higher rate,
The Street Car Company asks more fare
The Gas Company keeps up it's gait.

Taxes are going higher
Higher every year,
We wonder where it all will stop
The end must soon be near.

They will never drive out the Union men
No matter what they do or say
For the working men have made up their minds
To work the Union way.

Local Union No. 784.

POEM.

Here is a toast that I want to drink
To a fellow I never knew,
To the fellow whose going to take my place
When its time for me to go.
I've wondered what kind of a chap he'll be
And I've wished I could take his hand,
Just to whisper, I wish you well, old man,
In a way that he'd understand.

I'd like to give him the cheering word
That I've longed at times to hear,
I delight to give him the warm hand clasp
When never a friend seemed near.
I've learned my knowledge by sheer hard work,
And I wish I could pass it on
To the fellow who will come to take my place
Some day when I am gone.

Will he see all the sad mistakes I've made,
And note all the battles lost?
Will he ever guess all the tears they caused,
Or the heartaches which they cost?
Will he gaze through the failures and fruitless toil
To the underlying plan,
And catch a glimpse of the real intent
And the heart of the vanquished man?

I dare to hope he may pause some day,
As he toils as I have wrought,
And gain some strength for his weary task
From the battles I have fought.
But I've only the task itself to leave,
With the cares for him to face,
And never a cheering word to speak
To the fellow who'll take my place.

Then here's to your good health old chap
I drink as a bridegroom to his bride;
I leave an unfinished task for you,
But God knows how I've tried.
I've dreamed my dreams as all men do,
But never a one came true,
And my prayer today is that all my dreams
May be realized in you.

And we'll meet some day in the great unknown,
Far out in the realms of space;
You'll know my clasp when you take my hand
And gaze in your tired face.
Then all failures will be success,
In the light of the new found dawn,
So to-day, I'm drinking your health old chap,
Who'll take my place when I'm gone.

Resolved, That our charter be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days in due respect to this memory, a copy of these resolutions be sent to his family, a copy to the Official Journal, and a copy be spread on the minutes of this meeting.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

We are again advising our members not only to guard themselves but to advise other organizations relative to the activities of one Burton Wilder who seems to have secured an unlimited number of traveling cards from some source which he fills out at will. He may show a traveling card from most any of our locals that is situated far enough away from his present whereabouts to make it impossible to communicate easily with. The last traveling card which he exhibited was supposedly issued by Local No. 125 and he had that local located at Three Forks, Mont., instead of Portland, Oregon. He has exhibited traveling cards from No. 122 and No. 125 and 152 to date; is always borrowing money from members of other crafts as well as the Electrical Workers and borrows whenever possible from lodges of other crafts ranging in amounts from $20.00 to $50.00. Would appreciate very much any information that would lead to his arrest and conviction on charges of fraud. The harm these men do the organization is incalculable. We trust to have the co-operation of all members in bringing such activities to an early end.

Local Union No. 703 has placed a $500.00 fine and suspended M. Wheeler indefinitely from the Brotherhood for scabbing on the members in this jurisdiction. His card No. is 482532. Should he make application for membership in any other local please confer with the I. O. or 703 before admitting him to membership.

Respectfully,
C. H. Hotz,
F. S. and Treas.

EDITORIAL

WHO KNOWS WHAT THE WORKER THINKS? We have been asked the question—What does the worker think? The question prompts us to ask one — Is there anyone presumptuous enough to imagine he is competent to answer the question? However, there are several thoughts constantly passing through the worker's mind that are well known.

First, employment that will provide sufficient earning opportunity to obtain the necessary imperatives to sustain life for the worker and his dependents.

Second, an adequate wage that will permit meeting the requirements of the first thought.

Third, his ultimate status when he has reached the age that his earning capacity has greatly diminished or ceased entirely.

Constantly, these thoughts pass through the worker's mind. When he is eating food earned by a hard day's toil, he is thinking how long he will keep himself and his dependents out of the "want" line. When performing his work, the same thought is ever present.

Short-sighted employers fail to understand that while the worker's mind is occupied with such thoughts, efficiency is at a low ebb, and it seems unnecessary to mention that when efficiency is at a low ebb, production is of low volume. (Efficiency experts take note.)

There are many things the worker believes. For instance, he believes that his toil should be productive of sufficient return to provide some of the comforts, as well as the bare necessities of life. He believes greed has unbalanced industry so that it is not operated equitably for all. He believes possible an industrial balance that will provide steady employment and sufficient earning opportunity that will permit of meeting daily wants and allow a reasonable surplus for the old age status.

The worker is conscious of the fact that he is not now accorded such an opportunity. He sees little ahead but the necessity to toil for a bare subsistence until the limits of human efforts are exhausted. For such a disturbed mental attitude society pays dearly, but those controlling affairs will not see, their economic vision is short, and their mind narrow, and instead of helping to improve conditions, they scheme, plan and put forth efforts to make them worse.

It is too much to expect of human nature that a man confronted with a picture of hungry mouths and ragged bodies is capable of giving the best there is in him, unless it be in a fight to preserve the little he has and for betterment. The average worker is constantly confronted with a picture providing such a possibility. It is natural that such conditions breed dissatisfaction, stimulate class hatred, and create distrust for those who should follow policies that would bring them respect.

The worker knows that from the bowels of the earth, he digs the precious metal necessary to purchase the necessities, comforts and luxuries of life; but has little of it to use. He knows that a fellow worker erects beautiful homes; yet lives in a hovel. The worker is conscious that his sweat and toil clothes some in silk, but his own usually in rags.

To the worker's simple, humble mind, this all seems unfair, for he believes that the resources provided by nature were intended for the mass and not for the few.

The worker is convinced that by combining with other workers, these inequalities can be corrected and man's economic power is being rapidly mobilized, and is a force once started for an objective, no other worldly force can stop. The interests that are attempting to crush labor would profit greatly by a little rational thought. The industrial Czars should not forget the fate of the political Czars.

Operative No. 166.

G. E. Brock's career ends with exposure.

The statements made so often by the International Officers, and through the columns of the Journal, that spies employed by so-called detective agencies to gnaw at the vitals of labor, are chosen for their ability to become popular and hold office in local unions, is again proven.

G. E. Brock, whose picture is published herewith, was Recording Secretary of Local No. 45, Buffalo, N. Y. and as such, not only had access to all records but was in a position to doctor the minutes, withhold correspondence addressed to the local whenever that course might seem best calculated to create disorder and distrust in the local union.

The affable Brock, while there, took part in a fake automobile raffle that caused the local to appeal to the International Office to help them collect $110.00 from him. So far all attempts have failed.

Brock transferred from Local No. 45 into Local No. 27, then back to No. 45 then to No. 20 and after serving his masters' purposes there, transferred to Local No. 860 having no doubt been placed by his agency with the Pullman Company for purposes best known to him and his agency.

The International is still holding one of his reports to his master, The Detective Agency, giving full account of the meeting of Local No. 3, New York.

All locals are warned to beware of this G. E. Brock and others of his kind and to refuse him admittance to locals under any conditions.

The International is indebted to the officers and members of Local No. 3 and No. 45 for their excellent work in uncovering this spy and we thank them for their hearty assistance to Representative Kloter in his work on the matter.

Beware at all times of the too active advocate of principles other than trade union. Like all of his kind Mr. Brock will in time attempt to victimize other locals and we desire all to be fully acquainted with him.

Look him over carefully as an example of what to avoid.

DESERT GOD OR LOSE EMPLOYERS' MONEY.

In a recent issue of LABOR attention was called to the campaign conducted by the Employers' Association of Pittsburgh to defeat the efforts of the local Y. W. C. A. to raise a building fund of $200,000. Since then "Labor" has come into possession of a letter sent by the Employers' Association of Pittsburgh to the secretaries of all employers' associations throughout the country, urging a national campaign against the Y. W. C. A. unless the organization abandons its "Dangerous attitude" on industrial questions.

The "dangerous attitude" consists of an indorsement of the following propositions:

Industrial democracy, collective bargaining, a share in shop control and management by workers, labor's desire for an equitable share in the profits and management of industry, protection of workers from enforced unemployment, a minimum wage, government labor exchanges, experiments in cooperative ownership.

All these things, according to the Pittsburgh Employers' Association, are "un-American." These gentlemen do not intend to stop with their effort to coerce the Y. W. C. A. The letter referred to very frankly declares that the attitude of certain religious institutions "is one of the most serious things" employers have to face today. So the Pittsburgh employers propose that notice shall be served on religious bodies that unless they cease advocating the cause of the workers they will not receive any of the employers' money.

They must make a choice between the lowly Carpenter of Nazareth and Mammon and make it right away.

Employers are Brutally Frank.

The letter of the Employers' Association of Pittsburgh is such an extraordinary document that we are printing it in full, as follows:

"To the Secretaries of Correspondent Employers' Associations,

"Dear Sir: For your information desire to place before you the action this association in reference to the Y. W. C. A.

"On January 12, 1921, we issued a bulletin to our members drawing their attention to the industrial program which had been adopted by the Y. W. C. A., a copy of the bulletin was sent you at that time.

"The local association had just begun a campaign for $200,000 when our bulletin was issued. As a result of the information given our members, the Y. W. C. A. raised only $90,000 of its $200,000.

"The ladies of the Y. W. C. A. were very 'wrothy' over our action, but we told them they could do nothing unless they would repudiate the action of their national body and promise not to send any of the sums they were raising to the national headquarters, where it would, of course, be used in support of the industrial program which had been adopted and which we believed to be detrimental to our American institutions.

"Dangerous Attitude" of the Church.

"The dangerous attitude of some of our religious and quasi-religious institutions is one of the most serious things we have to face at the present time. Unless those of our members who are connected with the various churches of the country protest in vigorous fashion against the radicalism which is creeping into our church bodies, the result will be extremely grave. Religious bodies can hardly expect us to give them money for the purpose of manufacturing weapons with which to destroy industry.

"We presume you have seen a copy of the February 1st issue of 'Industry,' which outlines the radical nature of the literature with which the young minds of members of the Y. W. C. A. are being brought into contact through the industrial department of that institution.

"The radical and Bolshevik elements in the churches seem to be co-operating through the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, and many of our members are expressing themselves as determined to discontinue financial support of their respective churches unless they withdraw all moral and financial support from the Federal Council.

"'Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty,' industrial as well as any other kind.

"Yours truly,

"The Employers' Assn. of Pittsburgh."

L. U. NO. 31, DULUTH, MINN.

Editor:

Just a few lines to let you know what has been taking place in the old Gopher State and particularly in Duluth. There has been a state-wide organization of employers formed in Minnesota to set a standard scale of wages and conditions. The result is an announced reduction of wages amounting to approximately 20 per cent.

These reductions have come at a period of about two to four months previous to the usual annual scale adjustments. Those of the crafts having signed agreements are protected until their expiration but the electrical workers having none are now considered as being locked out. We have battled about three weeks so far and we are just as determined as ever to enforce our scale of one dollar per hour.

The contractors have not yet succeeded in bringing in any rats, so work is still at a standstill so far as the electrical part of the work is concerned. There have been three brothers whom it is charged have returned to work. Charges have been prepared against them and immediate action will be taken against them.

The conditions in Duluth are not and have not been good since 1907, the year of the big local lockout. There has never been an active building trades council in the city since that time. Several times Local 31, has actively financed and sponsored the formation of a new council but every attempt up to date has failed. Maybe now the "sleepy heads and "mossbacks" of the carpenters, bricklayers and plumbers, etc., will wake up to the acuteness of the situation and take some action.

So you see the up-hill fight and conditions which we are forced to contend with, but nevertheless all the brothers are looking forward to the future with confidence.

Well, will close now and await further developments.

Fraternally yours,
Chauncey A. Peterson,
P. S.

Just a few lines for the Worker from this old storm center. Although a few of the Brothers are working the most of us have nothing in sight and the days ahead seem darker than ever, especially for members of Old No. 32, as the Light and all of the Interurban Companies have gone into the hands of receivers and there is not much anticipated only the building of about two miles of city car line out to where The Union Tank Car Co. is building their big new three million dollar plant southwest of the city. Also The Illinois Pipe Line Co. is doing some work out of here, but are using some odd tactics in the way of cutting wages, laying off one brother and then calling another by telephone and asking him if he would accept the job for a 10 per cent cut and hiring him on the basis. But I guess most of the Brothers know it is one of the so-called Chamber of Commerce jobs, as most of their men are members of The Lima Chamber of Commerce, so that explains why they use these means of cutting wages.

Well at our last meeting we had with us our old time friend and brother Slim Mattox, but as there was no work here he only stayed over night and then went on toward Cleveland, where he thought he might land something.

Well as for our sister Local No. 1073, it kind of looks as if there might be plenty of work here for the narrow backs this summer, that is if money loosens up a little in the banks here for with the building of the new Tank Car Shop there will also rise a couple of office buildings, a new church and school and somewhere around 900 new houses, so there should be plenty of work for the members of the inside local here for the Electrical Contractors have expressed an unwillingness to join hands with the builders exchange and the C. of C. and the M. and M. in cutting wages saying they are satisfied to let well enough alone and so the scale will not be changed this spring so far as we know now at least. But will say that Lima Building Trades Council is going to have a little trouble with the rest of the contractors before all contracts are signed up as they all want to cut wages, but I don't think there will be any cuts. If there is there won't be much work as all jobs will be tied up just as soon as a non-union man lights on the job, so the officers of The B. T. C. say.

Brother Barger told me to ask that if this comes to notice of Brother Ed Stoner formerly of Freeport, Ill., for him to write Brother Barger at 323 W. North St., Lima, Ohio, as he would like to hear from him.

Well as news is a bit scarce I will ring off for this time. Hoping this gets by the waste basket I will try and have something later on.

Fraternally yours,
H. N. O. H.

Just a line for the April Worker, letting the rank and file know that Local No. 45 is still very much alive. Our meetings are very well attended, which is very encouraging to the officers. Work around here is beginning to pick up, putting some of the boys to work, but quite a few of them are still walking the streets. Quite a number of floaters have been drifting through here the past few weeks. Where are all of the organizers? It seems as though they fight shy of 45. I wonder why. I will try and have more news in my next letter.

Wishing the whole Brotherhood every success, I try to remain,

It has been a long time since you heard from 74, but they are still alive and doing fine. We just gave our "annual ball" and had a very good time, also added a little to our treasury.

The past few months we have been real busy, getting after the boys and are proud to say we are now 100 per cent organized. We have a few members that are out of employment, but on the whole we are better off than most places. We think we have done exceedingly well in the last three years as we have grown from a struggling local of 23 members to about 160 members at the present writing.

We all have our ups and downs so we must all keep hitting the ball for the good of the Union. So lets hit 'em up boys and pull together.

Assuring you that you will hear from us oftener in the future than in the past, we are

Editor:

Well another month has rolled by and we narrow backs are still on strike. I mean we were locked out because we would not stand for a 10 per cent reduction. This is history now. January 20th we were forced to walk out and now it is April 1st, and we are still out and fighting and will contnue to all summer before we will take a cut and lose some of our conditions that took twenty odd years to get.

We havn't lost a man and don't intend to. 103 is made up of good union men and not of the "card variety." They have shown their worth. We maintain a picket line every day and the pickets do good work influencing those "creatures" that always come to life in a strike of this kind to quit and be white men. Also they have been able to get work away from our former employers and have it given to some of more needy members to get a little jack to carry them on.

The ending of the strike here is an uncertainty. The employers end is very defiant and insist on the reductions also take away some of working conditions. I cannot say that the electrical branch of the employers is in this mood. But they are tied up with the Building Trades Employers Association and are lined up for a uniformed agreement. If you chanced to meet any of former contractors on the street they will tell you that they are sucked in and would like to break away, but they are afraid.

Old Local 103 went on record last June and again this past month. They will not go through with a uniform agreement, but insist on doing business with their employers. We will never get hooked again in one of those open and shut games, such as the one we are in at present.

The State Board of Arbitration has come in on the strike and offered a few propositions that were turned down by both sides. Now Gov. Cox has given the board one more day to straighten out the difficulty. Then he is going to appoint a committee consisting of six labor men and six employers, presided over by a judge to investigate the strikers and he to act on their report. I guess we will get the long end of the deal and maintain our former conditions and our dollar an hour.

Working members or those more fortunate in having place to hide, are coming through every week and are with the gang in spirit and money and it sure does help out.

Peter W. Collins, our former Business Agent, former International Secretary of the Brotherhood, needs to be mentioned here in this paragraph. Jack Fennell says if we had about ten more Collins sending in monthly checks like Peter, we could fight on forever. I chanced to see said check and it was a beaut and I understand he offered more if it was wanted and only too glad to do it. Cannot at this time tell the amount of said check as I don't know how P. W. C files his income tax.

Time drags each day for most of the members. Some have taken up side lines at other business. Hocky Joe Sampson has a side line thats got them all stopped. Ed Sheehan of the strike committee, has given Joe the full privilege of the day room, to sell his wares, Mickey Welsh and "Silent" Lou Johnson are his best customers. Louis Browne, who usually journeys south every winter or summer says he never uses them, and cannot see the need of them while his fourteenth cousin Warren is in Washington for the next four years.

Will close for this month, hoping to have some good news in my next. I remain,

Fraternally yours,
"Major" Capelle,

Ye scribe being a very sick man at this writing I cannot give you much news from the Panther City. A new company has been chartered by the state, to build some five Interurban roads out of Dallas, Tex., and if these jobs materialize any way soon, it should liven things up a bit in this section.

A very early spring in north Texas is putting some color into the labor situation here, and the members are feeling like joining with the birds and flowers in their merry songs of gladsome springtime.

With best wishes, and hoping for more of interest next month.

Here we are again, another month and everything quiet. The local is still holding its own and doing very nicely. Good attendance and good Smokers as well as good talks.

It was requested that a megaphone be sent to Brother A. V. Allison as he is losing his voice and talks above a whisper.

Work has been quiet for some time but we are looking ahead for a good future.

Brother Oh Nine Smith is enjoying the early morning automobile rides (I mean Maxwell) and is enjoying the morning color.

Brother Secrest still thinks a rule has 24 inches to the foot but experienced men know better, as he is long coupled thinks everybody can reach fifteen feet.

It has been reported that Brother Sam Kitchen has started a growth of fuzz on his head. Brother Conkin intends to lay off for about three weeks as he is going to get some eggs but five to one they will be set with shine and milk.

Brother Abraham Wilson takes morning strolls through the Woodland shooing lady cows.

Brother Gunlack is still being seen coming home in the early morning. We wonder where he goes.

Brother Cooper has left for a northern port. We understand he has taken his connectors and pipe with him, so we know that he is contented.

Brother Wheat thought this was July so he has started fire works with 15,000 volts.

There will be an Egg Nog and Ice Cream served next meeting. Everbody is requested to be present and bring their own Egg Nog and Ice Cream.

Brother Bob Murray has been seen riding with Brother Bentencourt in his Ford-ette. Bob is improving very nicely.

Well can't say anything much for this time, so will get more dope by next month.

Fraternally yours,

Bill Locke.

Editor:

As there has not been anything in the journal from L. U. No. 184 for some time, will try and let the Brotherhood know how things are around Galesburg. At present they are pretty slack. Some of the brothers are not working at this time and things do not look very bright for any great rush of work this spring and summer. Also wish to state that the strike here has never been called off, so all brothers stay away from this part of the country for there is nothing doing for either linemen or wiremen. We have an election here April 5th, which is going to prove very interesting. A complete labor ticket in the field, against the people's party or otherwise the old gaurd Republican and Democratic tickets combined under an assumed name. If there is anything that represents the people in their platform I have failed to see it. So we will see after election if the laboring class here have enough common sense to vote for the ticket that represents them or for the one that represents the open shop with an open shop advocate heading the ticket for mayor. If they don't do any better than they did last November here's hoping they get what they voted for and get it strong. And I don't know but what I would help to give them what they want. It seems that the laboring class has to be ground down to no conditions and poor wages and no work before they will be up and doing and then they only go part way. What a change we would see if they ever realize their strength and use a little team work and stick solidly together instead of pulling apart as they have been doing in the past. This Local was very unfortunate in losing one of its oldest and best brothers by death, Brother George Johnson. He was one of the oldest members in the local and a true and loyal one. In his passing away the local lost a true worker for the cause, although in ill health for a long time he did not fail to take an active part in the affairs of the Brotherhood as long as he was able to do so.

I will close for this time and will try and let the Brotherhood know how the election came out here in the next issue of the Journal.

Yours fraternally,

A. W. Maze,

L. U. NO. 210, ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.

Editor:

This month I am going to stray from the path usually followed by my colleagues and discourse on why Atlantic City is called correctly, the Nation's Playground. If I become tiresome, I hope my readers will bear with me gently as I am always a booster for this burg.

Once upon a time old Julius Ceaser paused to remark that all roads lead to Rome, but I claim that he was wrong again as all roads, namely the Penna., the Reading, the West Jersey and the famous White Horse Pike, all lead to Atlantic City. This was easily proven by the immense throng, estimated at 250,000, that came down ot spend Easter to witness and participate in the annual Fashion Parade held on the great boardwalk. This year the day was perfect, as the sun drove the mercury up to the eighty mark, thereby making an overcoat a hot and disagreeable article.

Milady was there a million different ways with her beautiful creations and a rainbow would have passed unnoticed in the galaxy of highly colored taffetas and georgette crepes besides other things that mere man is ignorant of. But before I forget it the wonderful display of "passionate" silk hosiery was worth coming miles to see and many a poor simp went home suffering with eye strain that didn't come from the sun either.

Not to slight the men I will relate that there seemed to be an abundance of the white collared pen pushers and counter jumpers, all decked out in cute little one button pinch back suits, with trousers so tight at the knees and elsewhere that I thought they would be coming out of them most any minute. These half pecks also carried canes which were unnecessary as all dogs are kept on a chain while on the walk. I sure am glad that the electrical worker as a rule is not a slave to fashion. Can anybody imagine a hiker all dolled up with such scenery trying to drape himself around the top of some sixty foot stick. Now on the other hand can any of you picture a narrow-back trying to bend a two inch pipe, all dressed up like a turkey gobbler at a county fair. Nope, it can't be done.

The rolling chair barons did a wholesale business with their adult baby carriages and by noon it was nigh impossible to traverse along the wooden way.

Now for a few facts concerning this city by the sea. It is situated on an Island about eight miles long and varies from one block at each end to one and a half miles in the centre of the city in width. The permanent population is around 50,000 which is swelled to 250,000 in the summer. We have seventy-three miles of paved streets and thirty-one miles of trolleys.

The boardwalk in the city proper is 4½ miles long and combined with walks of Chelsea and Ventnor one can stroll or ride for a distance of eight miles uninterrupted. But there are few feet built that can stand to navigate that entire distance very often as the wooden promenade is productive of an affliction commonly called the Boardwalk Foot. Just try to climb some high stick with a couple of bum arches and you have an exact reproduction of this peculiar ailment. Not for muh. The annual cost of maintaining this walk amounts to $60,000, and the illumination of the same costs $20,000 yearly.

There are about 1,200 hotels that are filled up for four months each year and over the holidays such as Easter, Decoration Day, 4th of July and Labor Day, this large number of hostelries is unable to care for the immense throngs. There again the walk comes in right handy as the sand under neath it accommodates many a weary and footsore vacationist who was unable to secure lodgings elsewhere. In the days gone by some officious cop used to give these sleepers the bum's rush, but not today. Nearly three hundred conventions are entertained here each year, and it is an astonishing fact that over half of the people who visit here each year, have never been into the real residential section of this town. As, perhaps, you all know the summer residents are for the most part exceptionally wealthy people and maintain beautiful homes, a good many of them are open the year around. Ventnor and Chelsea are noted for the many expensive cottages. Most of the notables of the stage are represented here each summer. Also the daily commuters between here and Phila., numbers many hundreds each season, thereby enriching the coffers of the railroads.

For the amusement of the people we boast of twenty-one theaters and movie houses, also five large piers; the latter Youngs Million Dollar Pier is the most notable. Last but not least is our famous beach unsurpassed for bathing on either coast. It is nearly five miles long and is amply protected by an efficient corps of life guards whose record last year was excellent. There was not a drowning recorded during the hours they were on duty. The styles and shapes seen on the beach during mid-season would cause Venus to blush with shame and beat if for home to drape her own nudity, but a strict bathing censor quickly gets on the job and compels the bold flapper, of which there are a few, to change her ways as well as costume.

Atlantic City's reputation for effective illumination is being well sustained by the A. C. Electric Co., who is keeping abreast of the rapid growth of the city, by building an $800,000 addition to their plant, which when completed will more than double their present capacity.

Brother Swapp of 720, Kid Fullerton of 299 and Shorty Bernard of 21 are in town and Local 210 is glad to receive their travelers. If this comes to the attention of Brother Butch Furst of somewhere in Indiana, he will confer a great favor on his old crony Bob White by sending him a card addressed to 20 Adams Ave., Pleasantville, N. J.

I was sorry to learn that Zeb Brown of Peoria, is on the sick list. Have been wondering what became of him for the past four months as I missed his articles. They always had a punch to them and I hope old timer that you will soon be able to resume your writings.

Was over to see Brother Joe Miller, who has been on the bum for the past four months and found him sitting up in bed with a young hopeful by his side. None of us in 210 ever dreamed that such was the nature of his long illness. Joe and the kid are doing nicely.

Greetings to Doc Hani, Slim Bush and the other old timers who remember the days I used to hit the car boxes. Does any member know whether C. M. Hildebrand of South Bend is still drawing his breath. If he is I wish that some loyal member of the S. B. Local would stake Hildy to just one two cent stamp.

I guess I had better tie her up before I wear out your patience and my Waterman. Best wishes to all.

Yours fraternally,
Bachie.

"Scraps from Cincy."

Today's mail brought March Worker, as usual, hurried through same to see if the I. O. had given 212 its usual consideration, discovering our offering right in line with all the other prominent writers. I extend my sincere and hearty thanks to the editor. He is most merciful indeed.

One of the recent trips up Vine St. suddenly brought to a halt by a group of star gazers watching Brother J. Raymond and his crew at work on a large sign at the new show shop. You can't get away from it. fellows, the older they get the more daring.

Six cases of assorted canned goods arrived at Local headquarters. Special committees appointed to investigate reported mistake made in shipment, were intended for Brother Feuerstine's new address.

Brother Feuerstine has recently been appointed lighthouse keeper. His wife, however, will do the light housekeeping.

Saw two red noses the other day. From outward appearance I am sure one was caused by excessive tight lacing while the other I imagine cost the owner quite a fortune to maintain under present handicaps.

Traveled for hours looking for the old Bock Beer sign Gave up in disgust. Quite alarming how we are gradually being separated from the necessities of life.

Public notice of a suburban recluse being found dead who had amassed a fortune, leaving no will or known relatives, has caused our boys to become very ambitious in tracing back their ancestors.

Met Brother E. Fogarty who was suffering from a very severe cold. I have no doubt in the world but what it was brought on by the extreme damp cellar located at Brother Fogarty's address.

Saw two brothers who had kicked out early enough one morning to walk several squares before catching their car to go to their daily work on the hill top. Object—met friends at a certain corner who presented them with transfers. Our present 8½ cent fare has caused considerable concern in the daily routine of many. I am in search of the party who deals in the kind acceptable on the "Green Line."

Manager of a certain contracting firm tells me our boys are becoming famous at that great indoor sport known as old house wiring. Its hard to cut across the grain, but it can be done.

Accepted invitation to Electrical Demonstration at auditorium. Could not understand why so much expense was entered into simply to exhibit what the average dealer has on display in his show window.

Once more we make record of the initial straw hat of the season Sunday, March 20, Sixth and Vine St., owner boards Clark Street car, presumably going to hear Billy Sunday. As many strange incidents are reported as happening daily at Billie's tabernacle, this fearless person will no doubt not cause any unusual comment, and will later return to his home unharmed after this heroic venture. Just eight days following above date we were treated with a heavy snow lasting nearly all day.

Another vacant store taken over by restaurant promoters. "She" must not feed him pies like mother used to make, judging from the number of eat shops that are prosperng down town these days.

Meals accompanied by jazz is quite the proper thing—not for the high brow only, but the checks are moderate and the ordinary guy is welcome providing he leaves his overalls outside.

Referring to eats has aroused my appetite. Here boy—one rye bread sandwich.

Yours for better and cheaper food.

As L. U. No. 220 hasn't been heard from in some time I will try to get a letter in the Worker monthly, as I have been elected press secretary to succeed Brother McNeal who handed in his resignation. I will state at this writing that the Rubber City is not picking up any to notice in our line. We still have several of the dear Brothers on the waiting list. There is plenty of work here to be done if they would let up on the money. It will take a long time for this town to get back to the pre-war period The tire industry has picked up a little but still there are thousands of Akron men out of work. So don't figure on coming this way this summer to make your stake, if you do you will get left in the hole. Do not pay any attention to the ads that you may see in the papers put out by the Rubber barons, just watch the Worker and if we need any men we will let you know through the Worker. We are now negotiating our new agreement to take effect May the first and what the outcome will be, I don't know, but if this letter passes censorship I will let you hear from me next month. I wish to state at this writing that Brother R. D. Silknitter has returned from the hospital where he has been suffering with a fractured hip caused from a fall while hanging a sign.

With best wishes to the Brotherhood,

S. P. M., Press Secy.

Owing to the fact that it has been some time since Local 238 has been represented in the correspondence column of the Electrical Workers' Journal, I will endeavor to impress upon the minds of the readers of the Journal that Local 238 is all together going good.

We have had a slight hint that we should take a small cut in our wages, but so far organized labor in this town is not much on taking hints. From the way everything looks just now, we are going to have smooth sailing. There is quite a bit of building getting under way. Everybody will soon be busy, then the contractors won't have time to listen to open shop propositions. Sofar we have only had one shop thrown open. A curb stone contractor you may say for this shop only worked one man, and then just part of the time. So we don't even miss him. We miss the smiling countenance of Brother G. W. Bease who has been called from our midst. We lost a true and loyal member with the departure of Brother Bease to that land beyond.

Fraternally yours,

R. D. Harrison.

As I have forgotten my promises that I made in my communication previous to this one, I will attempt to inform the membership of this Brotherhood just what is going on in the large city of Ashland. At our last regular meeting held Wednesday evening March the 9th we had several outside members who called in to pay us a visit. Something unusual to be surprised in that way as we are not accustomed to such surprises, nevertheless I noticed that the members enjoyed the visitors very much because of the attention they paid to the Local's interest. The following members called and reported where they were from: Brother Parsons out of Local No. 134; Brother See out of Local No. 1 and Brother Montighfel out of Local No. 899. Brother Clifford Halbe also called in and said hello to the boys and the way some of the members shook his hand showed that they were more than glad to see his presence at the meeting.

The dance committee reported that they have arranged for an annual ball to be given Friday evening, April 1st. this ball will be the 12th given and will surpass all other ones as to decorations and the trimming of the hall. Brother Veno who was injured some time ago, is back on the job just as nothing ever had happened to him. I only hope that he will refrain from doing any more high dives.

The Trades and Labor Council had Bro. J. J. Handley, Secretary and Treasurer of the Wisconsin State Federation deliver a splendid address at their hall March 2nd to a filled seating capacity hall. Brother Handley spoke on the necessity of organizing and in a general way covered organized labor and its struggle from an early period down to the present time. He stated that the only way that the working man can accomplish anything, will be to organize and go after what you want collectively. The speaker also covered the legislative situation in this state as it affects Labor at the present time. In all the address was one that opened the eyes of many that were in the hall when Brother Handley expounded the facts as they really are.

Working conditions are not the very best at present as the Companies are all caught up and laid some of the boys off with the understanding that in a short time work will resume if, the opportunity presents itself so that the men will stand for a cut in wages, otherwise there will be nothing doing. I for one do not care for the American Plan.

I just received a letter from Brother James Duncan who has his card in Local 1002, Tulsa, Oklahoma, and the Brother writes that he would like to ramble down this way. If you have a good position where you are Jim the best I can say is to hang on to it. I imagine that you would like to have your card with 255 and I realize that this little local is one to be proud of but, as I stated before if you have a good thing stick to it and also to No. 1002.

I will close hoping that I have not taken up too much space in the Journal, wishing the Brotherhood nothing but success, I remain,

Fraternally,

S. J. Talaska, Rec. Secy.

L. U. NO. 296, BERLIN, N. H.

Editor:

Electrical workers in the paper industry attended in force a conference held in Berlin Saturday February 12th, every local in the industry being represented.

The announced purpose of the meeting was to create a better spirit of brotherhood throughout the entire organization in the paper industry, and to get a better, broader, and nobler conception of life.

J. J. Dowling, international representative of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, delivered two fine addresses on co-operation within the brotherhood in particular, and co-operation among all craft organizations in general.

All of the delegates participated in the discussion, the arguments made by Delegate Baraby of Livermore Falls, Me., and Delegate Orcott of Glens Falls, N. Y., being extremely good.

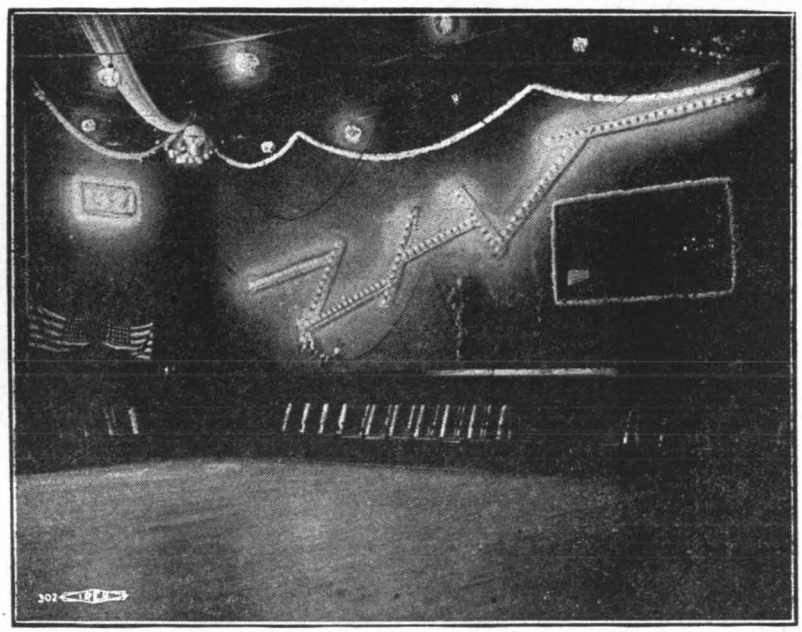

The general economic situation now prevailing throughout the country was discussed at length on the floor by the delegates. Three sessions were held during the day, one in the morning, another in the afternoon, and the last in the evening. During the closing session an agreement was drawn up, after a stormy debate, that will be presented to the manufacturers as a universal proposition.

More than a thousand people were present at the second annual concert and ball given under the auspices of Local 296, I. B. E. W., at the Gem Theatre on Wednesday evening, March 2. The gorgeous electrical display excelled even that of the previous year; and the arrangements reflected credit on every man associated therewith. The Twin State Gas and Electric Company furnished the lights and power free of charge; and the wiring was done through the co-operation of electrical workers both in this city, Gorham, and elsewhere.

One step across the threshold of the theatre hall took visitors from workaday facts into a new realm of gaiety, enhanced by thousands of lights and suitable music.

The first impressions of those who attended would be hard to record, and it is doubtful if their feelings could be analyzed, except that each one had the time of his or her life. Lights confronted one in every direction, each blazing its share of the feeling so evident to visitors.

Directly over the stage the emblem of the hosts, "Local 296, I. B. E. W.," spelled out its welcome, while to right and left on the walls long flashes of forked lightning zig-zagged through festoons and garlands of gay decorations. In all directions the eye of the visitor encountered some new demonstration of electrical skill. Here, Old Glory waved and glowed in the national colors; there a vari-colored wheel revolved at a dizzy speed; in another quarter, the numerals of the year announced themselves. The orchestra was remembered by a large flashing sign bearing its name, and as if to justify this brilliance the musicians strove to heighten this notice with the excellence of its music.

From 8 to 9 p. m. an orchestra concert welcomed the guests and furnished entertainment, and then the dancing commenced. The Moonlight Waltz was a popular feature of the latter. With the opening music the lights were extinguished, and in their stead a sober moon in one corner chaperoned the gathering while dozens of stars twinkled merrily on the dancers below. A spotlight from the balcony sent its beam sweeping from side to side over spectators and dancers alike.

It was 2 o'clock when the final dance ended and the crowd filed through the doors on its way home.

The work done by the electrical workers in preparing the ballroom was a credit to their industry and perseverance. Over 1,500 lights went into the effects, while 10,000 feet—nearly two miles—of wire were used on the connections, all being hidden under gayly colored festoons of flowers and roping. The forked lightning on the walls flashed at the speed of one per second: the electrical display was operated by machinery engineered from the wings of the stage.

Nelson Brothers furnished appropriate music during the evening.

In an affair where each one worked so heartily for its success, the mention of names is a difficult matter; and the president of the local, A. Mortenson, whose modesty in the matter deceived no one as to the worth of his own efforts, declares credit to be due to every one of his fellow-workers without exception because of their wholehearted co-operation.

The officers of the local are: President, A. Mortenson; vice-president, Walter Dwyer; recording secretary, Albert Lennon; financial secretary, Ora Keith; first inspector, Harland Jefferson; second inspector, John Spinney; foreman, Wm. Keough, and trustees, Napoleon Martell, John Keleher, and Bernard Gallant.

L. U. NO. 348, CALGARY, CANADA.

Editor:

I have just returned from Fernie, B. C. where there has been formed lately a company known as the Alberta and B. C. Power Company. This Company intends building a high line from Elco, Elk River, B. C. to Macleod across the crow's Nest District, a distance of 115 miles. They also will build another line from Bull River Falls to Cranbrook, B. C. Four sub-stations have to be erected in this district and I understand that this Company has the franchise to rebuild Cranbrook.

Work may not be started for another six weeks. We are trying to negotiate an agreement with this company so as to make it a good job. But it is high up in the mountains, in difficult country and everything is very expensive; so boys, do not start flocking up there like sheep or else you may be sorry later. There are no idle linemen in this territory now but when work begins I shall notify locals near here.

We have been very busy in Calgary lately and the brothers have done their best to assist the organizer. The Telephone girls were invited to an Open Meeting last night and after we got through with the initiation of new members we cleared the floor for a dance. We had a splendid floor manager and some of the boys who had been crippled since the war forgot about their troubles and danced like nigger minstrels. One of the boys remarked, "There is always a good tune left in an old fiddle." We had light refreshments, sandwiches, cake and coffee. The girls brought the cakes and they have some dandy cooks amongst the operators.

However we have to give another dance soon or I am afraid some of the boys will be getting baldheaded for the wives were not invited to this dance and to even things all round we must have another dance and invite the wives of the brothers. Some of the boys have not much hair to lose so they dare not take any chances with their scanty locks.

We are getting good results from our Charter being thrown open and in the next week or two we hope to have all the Telephone boys in our Local. They are 90 per cent organized now, and should keep coming.

General conditions in Canada and especially in the West have been nothing to brag about this Winter. There has been a great deal of unemployment in most lines but not nearly so bad as across the Line. It is certainly enough to make one wonder if this part of the world is crazy to read the daily papers. One article reads that the producers cannot get rid of their products at almost any price; another that millions of workers are living in semi-starvation; and a third that U. S. A. is receiving gold from every direction and hoarding it, of course, in the Banks. The Minneapolis Journal had an article bragging about how America was no longer a creditor nation but the richest in the world and that all the world owed her money. Yet the people beg for a job—almost at any price. When a man is starving a bone tastes good. The workers like bones anyway. They were trained to like'em during the war. Beef steak is not economical for us and besides it gives indigestion.

The papers are talking about the 'spring rush" and work opening up here but there is not much work starting of a public character. With regard to the oil wells up North whether there is oil or not this is a fine way to get suckers to go in and develop that country. So if we live a little longer we will see some interesting stories come from out the Northland—whether oil is developed or not; so hold your horses—or rather your dog teams! With best wishes to all the brothers and sisters,

Yours fraternally,
Michael J. Coleman, P. S.

L. U. NO. 377, LYNN, MASS.

Editor:

I made my first attempt in the March edition of the Worker, and up to date have not received any sympathy or bombs, so that has given me courage to try again.

Writing a letter three times is a task for one with more gray matter than I have, but will do the best I can never the less.

Well about all you can hear lately is reduced wages and our bosses here in Lynn, with the help of the Chamber of Commerce, and the Rotary Club, have the same idea so imbedded into their heads, that they can't think of any thing else. They keep their wives awake nights talking in their sleep about it.

A year ago we gave them a six weeks fight and then only received half of what we went after, but by the way the boys feel this year I think we will fight them for six months instead of six weeks, before we will give in, so you can look for fireworks from Local 377 about May 1st.

I agree with Brother McKay of Local 113 on the Universal Examination put out by the G. O. I know all good union men should have a five year card, but misfortune overtakes all of us at some time or other, and we lag behind in our dues. Then when we want to travel we have to take an examination which we should, but some of the examinations that I have heard of would take an Edison to answer them, where again in the same Locals, they have one that any two year helper could answer, which they give their friends and I think a Universal Examination would do away with all of this. It could be changed every year or every six months, as the same one to run indefinitely would not be practicable to my way of thinking.

Go to it Brother McKay and if I can be of any service to you just let me know.

Well I guess this will be all for this time, so will close with best wishes to all the Brothers.

L. U. NO. 382, COLUMBIA, S. C.

Editor:

February first this L. U. didn't have a letter in the Worker, but it was due to Uncle Sam being slow. It is never the Press Secretary's fault. Every Local Union wants to know how the conditions are in these parts. I can answer your question easy. Business is extremely dull and we have a few Brothers loafing. Stay away from her. We are glad to report that none of the Columbia Rwy. Gas & Electric Employees are loafing and we do not believe this Company will cut off any of us. However you will please not forget the fact that this Company will not take on a man of any kind as we are merely on a stand still. And it's time to say Uncle Ed. said he would not cut unless he had to do it. You will want to know who Uncle Ed is. Oh! he is just the Company.

Local Union 382 is having a very small attendance due to the boys being afraid to come out on the streets for fear they will spend a dime during these hard times.

Brother if you are looking for a job don't come this way, expecting and hoping as we will take care of our old members first.

We have elected Brother C. F. K. Briard for president. Brother W. B. Wells resigned on short notice. We were sorry to lose him for president, but it was his wish to resign. However Brother C. F. K. Briard will whirl the gavel as he has done it before. He being an old past president of L. U. 84, Atlanta, Ga., and is well able to fill the chair.

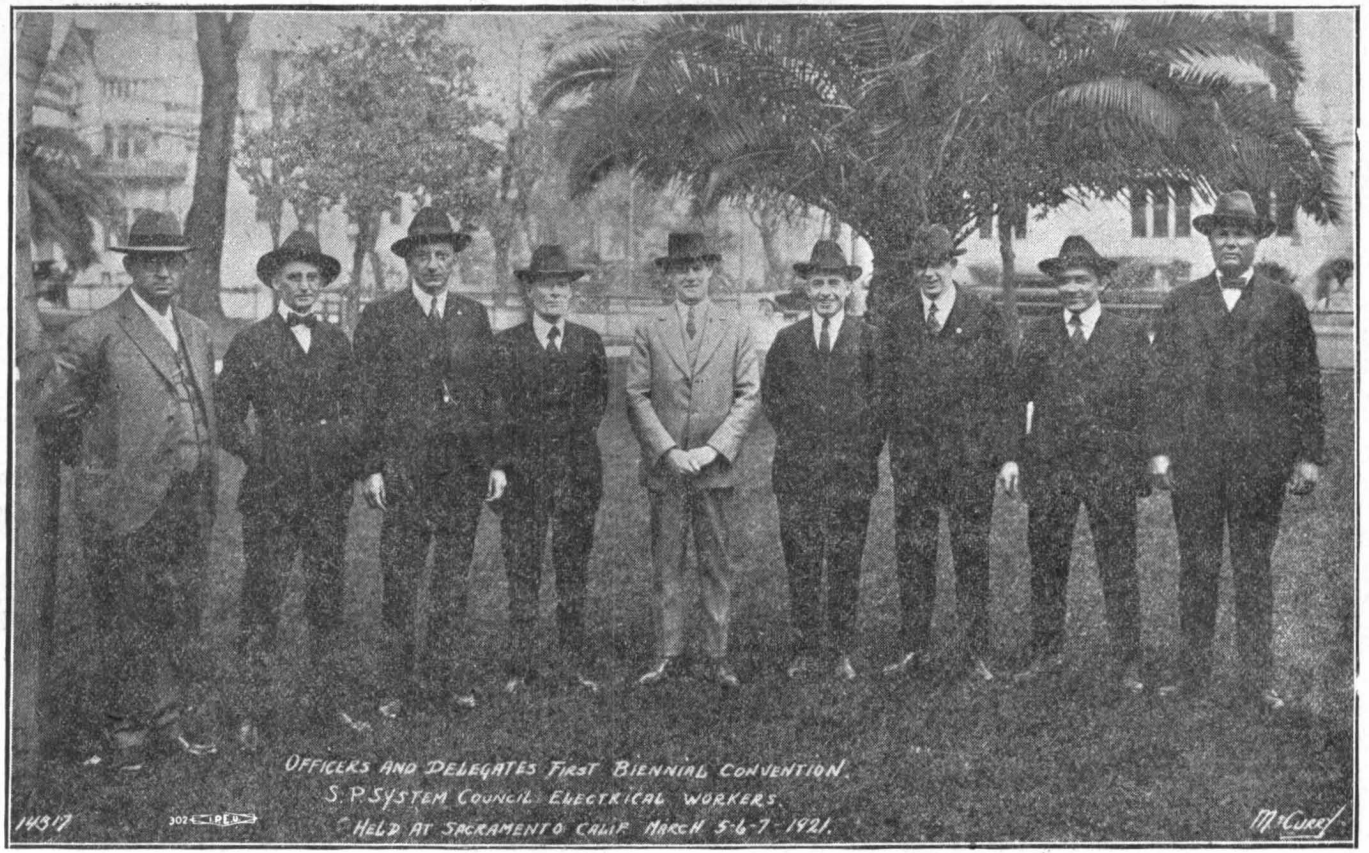

If this comes to the notice of Brother H. Boland, he will please forward at once a little book he borrowed from the writer. This will serve for this time.

Fraternally yours,
L. A. Smith, P. S.

L. U. NO. 584, TULSA, OKLA.

Editor:

I am sorry I can not report conditions favorable in Tulsa but I hope to be able to in the near future. We have signed an agreement or rather extended our present agreement for three (3) months. While a years agreement was what the local wanted, they accepted the three (3) month contract to avoid friction. Building is picking up some and the majority of men are getting in enough to make expenses.

Members shown in photo reading from left to right are: Geo. Parker, L. U. No. 426; Geo. E. Brooks. L. U. No. 287; O. M. Olsen, L. U. No. 895; L. S. Gordon, L. U. No. 954; T. C. Robbins, Inter. Rept.; General Chairman Ray Focht, L. U. No. 18; Dale B. Sigler, L. U. No. 125; Sec. Treas. J. H. Bunce, L. U. No. 18; Hugh M. Olive, L. U. No. 954; Brother L. S. Gordon is also Sec.-Treas. of the System Federation.

I would like to warn any Brother thinking of heading in here to change his mind unless equipped to lay around for some time. We have a number of men who are not getting in full time and it will take some brisk pickup in the building industry to put them on full time. But if it is summer you want come down as we have had it all winter. I don't know what the official records are but I don't seem able to recall ten days of weather cold enough to freeze ice. To the northern Brothers I will say that fruit trees were in blossom the last of February and to my notion that is getting an early start. Will close here hoping to be able to write some news of interest in the next edition.

Yours fraternally,

F. J. Spohrer, P. S.

L. U. NO. 695, ST. JOSEPH, MO.

Editor:

This being the first report from No. 695 for many moons, and my first attempt as Press Secretary, I don't think the Brothers around over the circuit will find it very interesting. No. 695 like all other locals is having a struggle holding their own. The Building Trades Branch of the Commerce Club dropped a gas bomb on us about a week ago. But as yet, have had no report of any casualties. At our last meeting we had an interesting meeting of Building Contractors, who undertook to show us where we were getting too much money and also went as far as to say that Labor was the cause of the great Slump in the building circles. They also had figures to show that material (electrical) had decreased about fourteen and seven-tenths per cent. And at the conclusion of one of the Electrical Contractors speeches he said that it wasn't the object of the contractors to put any hardships on the workers and would only ask us to come back to our 1919 scale which would mean a 25 per cent reduction in our wages. But thanks that they only ask it. One surprising thing is though, that they are not advocating the "open shop". But maybe they are going to use that point as a last resort. "Who can tell." We are expecting some very interesting "bouts" before we are again on smooth ground, but here is trusting to the "Boys". to weather the storm in A. 1 condition. Our last objective will be staged on or about April 1st, and in my next report I hope to have full details of the assault. With best wishes for the Brotherhood.

Fraternally yours,

W. A. Vaughn, P. S.

Just a few lines from L. U. 803. We are still on the map and going strong. 22 of us men were laid off the 15th, but will go back soon we hope. March 15th we had one good meeting. R. Henderson, J. L. Backer were with us and gave a long talk on the wage reduction and it was good dope for us.

We have in Brother George Parrot our grievance man the best there is in any local in this dear old U. S. He always gets what he goes after. As I could not wish this job on anyone else I am doing it myself. Most of you who read this will say S. O. S. So I will hang up for this time.

L. U. NO. 810, MOBILE, ALABAMA.

Editor:

Well as the press secrtary of Local 810 has not shown us up for a long time, will try and see if we can get in a few lines as Local 810 is still fighting for a living and will continue to if in our power. Well things are dull here at present and only a few of the boys at work, as no shops are signed up at present. We went out about eleven months ago and stayed out. Only lost a few men, say five and at the last meeting of 810, Brother A. J. Aris, Card No. 92591 was fined $1,000 and suspended for 99 years for violating Article 25, Section 1 of Constitution. We have a government coal terminal going up here also an oil filling station for boats. Guess some of the boys will get in a few hours there, let's hope so anyway. Everything has been on strike in this port and have all pulled strike off, except machinist and they are calling a special meeting for Tuesday night, March 22. Don't know what they will do. Well if any Brother has coming here in mind, would advise him to wait a while. Well the Government of Alabama has played H—— with coal miners at Birmingham so todays paper states. Well summer is here and we don't have to use coal so let us wish the miners all the luck possible. Well I can't think of anything else but wishing the entire Brotherhood good luck and a joyous summer. I will close, hoping to see this in the Worker.

I am your Fraternally,

A. D. Denny,
L. U. 810. Acting Press Secy.

L. U. NO. 810, MOBILE, ALABAMA.

Editor:

I am an enthusiastic reader of the Journal, and I think every one hundred per cent union man is (I mean the ones with the Union heart). In view of the fact that we do not get the proper notoriety through the public press I think through the columns of the "Worker" is the place to exchange ideas, and at least get acquainted ourselves and then our individual members can convey it to the public, of which we are all a part; so, here goes!

Do you, Mr. Editor, argue with me when I suggest that organized labor should have traveling instructors to visit our Locals and educate our members to the principles of real unionism? Our one big union, the Chamber of Commerce, has. Our Fraternal orders and churches have. Why can't we? I am sure we could get enough converts in every locality and the notoriety would be worth while. I can endorse several of our members that are efficient. I can acquire all the information that is necessary from abroad and I am sure that would help to get the world right. We all know it is in a bad way at the present time.

I am an electrical worker since 1905 and took out a card in 1912. I am a wanderer, sometimes called by the American Public a "Long Distance tramp". However, I am a real American and a pretty close observer and I think since our one big union, the C. of C. has organized so strong against us it is up to organized labor to stick together and WE WILL WIN!

Brothers, the latter part of last year while traveling (in a side door pullman) from our largest Southern City to another, while in the latter I had a vision, so I am going to tell you all about it. It was pictured out to me that I could unionize and fraternalize the world. I think all Brothers will agree with me when I say good unionism is good fraternalism and vice versa, and in that way the golden rule can be worked honestly. I will admit it is quite a problem to solve, but in course of time it can be done by the method I have previously suggested. Soon after that I came to my home city and found all crafts on strike. I casually met a steel mill roller and we decided to go to Europe, so we arranged our passports and proceeded (on a tramp steamer). While in Bremen, Germany, I visited headquarters of the German Seamen's Union and was very royally entertained. We were very confidential in exchanging ideas on our views of unionism. I inferred from my visit over there that the world wants to get acquainted and that accounts for the dissatisfaction and unrest of our people today. Brothers, they are finding out for themselves what is going on in our foreign countries. Almost every outgoing ship is carrying men of different crafts and they are observing very closely in every port and teaching their mates the principles of real unionism.

Mr. Editor: Don't forget the need of special instructors to educate the members of our Locals and all Locals of the A. F. of L. I would like to hear the version of some of the brothers on this subject.

Yours in I. B. E. W.
The Long Distance Tramp.

L. U. NO. 828, DAYTON, OHIO.

Editor:

As newly elected Press Secretary of Local 828, I will try to have a letter in the Worker the first month at least.

Our Local has prospered in the past year and has had all the members working until the first of the year, when about twenty of our members were laid off at the Dayton Power and Light Co., some of which have found work in other lines and some have taken travelers and gone elsewhere, to seek their fortunes, while some are still among the unemployed. Again on last Saturday, eleven more of our members were laid off at the D. P. and L. Co., five linemen and six helpers.

The two telephone companies and the Conservancy district are still working their full force of men.

I regret to say our Local has received the resignation of our former president, and since January first our Financial Secretary, Brother H. E. Harrison, to take effect March 31st. Brother Harrison having purchased a confectionery and cigar store in South Park. The members regret the loss of Brother Harrison as an active member and officer of our Local. He has always been a true and loyal member and a hard worker for the I. B. E. W. The members all wish him abundant success in his new venture.

As this is my first offence I will cut this letter short, and hope to have some better news for you in next month's Journal. I might also add Local 828 was honored with a visit here of Brother (One eye) Riley some few months ago.

I am fraternally yours,
Frank E. Martin, P. S.

L. U. NO. 834, HOBOKEN, N. J.

Editor:

Just a few lines to let you know that Hoboken is still in the same place and that little changes have occurred.

But the D. L. & W. R. R. is going to try and make a terrible change. First they are going to try and make a cut in wages which is going to make it very hard for the working man to live and set his table up like a real American should.

With the cost of living the way it is here and rent of a house, I guess we will have to get a tent and for each meal one loaf of punk and one onion and a glass of water. That is what it looks like to me.

Well Brothers as soon as things start here I will be only too glad to let you know and should you pass through don't forget and stop in and see us as we are only to glad to see new faces.

We lost one of our brothers last week. It has been 7 years since I had a chance to write as a press secrtary, so I will keep things moving now while I am here.

We have a grievance committee which has never lost a case as yet so I don't think that is bad for a little local if we keep it up. Will be as big as Local 80 in Norfolk. Well should Brother Maddicks read this he will know that the job went up, that we were supposed to go to in Cuba. I came up to Newark and stayed here.

I guess that will be all for the first time and I will close with best regards to all.

Fraternally yours,
Harry Molyneul,
Press Secretary.

Editor:

What! You don't know us? Well Brothers keep your eyes open in the future and you shall soon be waking the sound sleeping wifie with 4 a. m. mutterings about Local Union 910.

With tedious, but sure efforts we have fought our way from the mire to the ranks of the mighty, and are at present endowed with a strong and ever increasing membership. Almost every meeting the attending members hear a lot of "swearing" in (our rooms) of a few new recruits who wish to join the non prohibition ranks of Local 910 (perhaps, because of our closeness to the Canadian border). Most of the credit due we bestow upon our presiding financial secretary. George Dezett, who as a charter member (with more than his share of Brotherhood experience) grabbed the helm of our good ship 910 and has steered her through the choppy sea of organization and brought us into clearer and calmer waters, where we are fast gaining recognition.

We have just admitted one of those genuine bloody, blooming, blighting Englishmen, Brother Allen, (minus the monocale and cane) to our fold and are expecting more humorous and livelier meetings from now on.

Because of our town's nation wide notoriety of the open pursuit of boot-legging, immoral crepe paper dancing costumes, public gambling dens and the familiar feel of sawdust cushioned floors, through the report of our minister's vigiliance committee of three, we feel it our duty to warn our travelling brothers, that since all these vices have come to a standstill, work has slackened considerable and it would be hardly worth their time to venture in this district.

Hoping the "Hinges of our Brotherhood" shall never rust, I remain,

Floyd A. Bourcy,

I will try again. This is my third to Worker. The boys seem to think I have become careless and did write, but try this time. Things are sure dull in this town, all companies laid off men and some of the oil companies have cut fifty cents on the day. Some new work in sight, but I have been unable to learn when it will start. We have ten or twelve men on the unemployed list at present. Lots of the boys say they have heard things are going to open up in this state sooner than elsewhere, but I fail to see any signs. All lines of work is dull here, but the money heads are talking to start, but it is only noise; trying harder to cut wages more than anything else. We still have the L. B. Meyers outfit from Chicago down our way, impossible to do a thing with them. They just completed a line into the new power house and are in and around Okmulgee. I hope which ever territory they are working in they have more success in handling them than we did. We are just completing a seventy thousand out door sub-station; been on it since the first of the year. We sure did have an awful hail storm here Easter, but it did not so much damage wires or crops.

With best wishes to all.

Fraternally yours,
W. F. W.

L. U. NO. 1006, MARINETTE, WIS.

Editor:

Guess this is the first time that L. U. 1006 ever spoke its piece and went on record in the Journal. Being the newly appointed P. S. it's up to me to "put her on the map" as all the Brothers say. So here goes.

It seems that everybody around here that can't make a living any other way is getting into the electrical game We are trying to round up these would-be electricians but are having rather a hard time of it. But we'll get them all yet. We are also fighting for a competent inspector. We want one that will inspect and not merely draw his money. We hope to have one soon for Marinette and then we will go after Menominee.

Everybody around here is kicking about the hard times. etc., and yet no one ever seems to be able to get around to the meetings of their Union. Perhaps if those fellows would attend meetings more regularly we would be able to remedy some of the existing conditions. It must be confessed, however, that things are very dull around this part of the woods.

Well, I guess I have said enough for the first time so I will turn off the switch. Please excuse any mistakes which may have crept in here or there. With best regards to all our brother Electrical Workers, I remain,

Yours fraternally,
O. Remington,
Press Secretary.

L. U. NO. 1132, QUINCY, MASS.

Editor:

We have had some very interesting meetings since writing you last month, and have delayed this letter as long as possible in the hope of sending more interesting news.

In January we were given 30 days notice by the Bethlehem Ship Building Co., of their desire to give up the present agreement. Then things started to happen "a la the American Plan" and have been happening ever since. They picked the worst part of the winter to bring things to a climax, but for months previous had been reducing the force so that they could have plenty of destitute workers outside the gates eager to take our places.

However, several mistakes on the part of some of the Companies very clever executives spilled the beans and Organized Labor awoke just in time. I would like to tell all the Brothers all the ins and outs of the whole game so they could follow just what we are stacked up against. There always comes a time when brains are a better weapon than anything else, and we have resolved to use ours. We have a large majority of sensible, clear thinking men in our Local, and with the advice and assistance of Organizer Keaveney, for whom everyone of us has only words of highest praise, we feel that we are on the right path to make this ship-yard what it ought to be. The Company will benefit as well as ourselves when the last shirker and dodger has been put outside the gates, and even now the best mechanics in all the crafts are Union men as the Company is well aware.

There are ten, yes ten, different rates for Electricians in this yard. and it sure is some pill to swallow for men who have been in the game long and have traveled a bit and who never had to or would have recognized anything more than journeymen, helper, and apprentice. It is on this issue alone that the greatest struggle will take place, and it surely deserves to be wiped out along with the bunch who were willing to allow themselves to be used in such a way.

We have a number of our men out of work and the situation here and throughout the state is not encouraging. There is years of work here already on the ways, it is only a lack of employment and not a scarcity of work as the "dollar a year" boys would have "the Poor Old Public" believe. We have one ship started here that will use 180,000 KW, more than is used by the entire city of Boston. This is for Uncle Sam and you would think that he would put an end to this kind of national suicide.

A word of warning to all who follow national politics in its connection with the Labor movement. The voters in this state went to the polls last November and elected Calvin Coolidge, the famous exponent of "law and order" a man of tremendous voltage but of absolutely no current to the Vice-President's chair. This is the man who allowed the killing of innocent passers-by, including children at the time of the Policemen's strike so that he could make another appeal to Americanism and explain his meaning of "law and order" to the deluded Public.

We also have same strong "union" agitators in town but they are not fooling anyone but themselves, and providing lots of amusement for us. Our membership is steadily increasing and we will soon be able to report 100 per cent.

As per my promise of last letter I am sending the list of officers not mentioned before:

Foreman—E. Costello.

1st Inspector—A. E. Beach.

2nd Inspector—A. C. Thompson.

Trustees—F. H. Ladd, J. Kilpatrick, J. H. McKay.

Brother Woodis of Local No. 962, one of our old brothers in the independent organization, spotted our last letter in the Worker and came all the way from Readville, Mass., to visit and congratulate our entrance into the I. B. E. W. at our last meeting. We would like to see more letters in the Worker from Locals having men in the ship yards. How about it No. 1085?

With best wishes to the Brotherhood, I am,

Fraternally yurs,
D. J. Abbott.

THE CHALLENGE ACCEPTED.

Labor Will Not be Outlawed or Enslaved.
Declaration of the Conference of Representatives of National and International Trade Unions, Washington, D. C. February 23-24, 1921.

We ask the American people to give solemn consideration to this declaration. It is the pronouncement of a movement that is consecrated to the cause of freedom as Americans understand freedom. It is the message of men and women who will not desert the cause of freedom, no matter what the tide of the struggle.

The American labor movement in this crucial hour here lays before the people the full story and asks them to rally with labor to the defense of our imperiled institutions.

Labor speaks from no narrow or selfish point of view. It speaks from the standpoint of American citizenship. And the indictment it lays is an indictment of the enemies of freedom and progress.

American labor battling for the preservation of American democracy and American institutions today stands between two converging destructive forces.

Standing between two opposing forces, uncompromising toward both, the American trade union movement today finds itself and every American institution of freedom assailed and attacked by the conscienceless autocrats of industry and the followers of radical European fanaticism. If either of these wins, the doors of democratic freedom and opportunity can never be reopened in our time.

Though inspired by vastly different motives, these two unrelenting forces work toward the destruction of the same ideals, each using the other as a tool in the struggle to overwhelm democracy and put an end to American progress, politically and industrially.

On the one hand Labor is compelled to meet in a wide variety of manifestations the determination of reactionary industrial autocrats, autocrats who would destroy the organizations of labor and remove from the field of industry the only agencies through which the workers may protect themselves from aggression and the only agency through which they may offer to industry their cooperation in the improvement of industrial processes and the expansion of productive energy with that improvement of the product and lowering of prices justly demanded by the public.

Reaction Casts off all Pretense.

Reactionary employers have joined their might in campaign which they are pleased to call a campaign for the "open shop," which they have been waging vigorously since the signing of the armistice. Compelled by the pressure of public opinion to accept Labor's cooperation during the war, when the utmost conservation of productive energy was necessary to the life of the nation, they cast off all pretense immediately upon the passing of the emergency.

This entire campaign on the part of the combined reactionary employers is in no sense a campaign for the "open shop," no matter what definition may be given to that term. The campaign is (distinctly and solely) one for a shop that shall be closed against union workmen. It is primarily a campaign disguised under the name of an "open shop" campaign, designed to destroy trade unions and to break down and eliminate the whole principle of collective bargaining which has for years been accepted by the highest industrial authorities and by the American people as a principle based upon justice and established permanently in our industrial life.

Not only during the war, but during every year since the labor movement has had a place in our industrial life, it has justified its existence and proved the necessity therefor, by making possible the necessary cooperation between employers and workers, on the one hand, and on the other hand by rescuing the workers from autocratic domination and developing for them a standard of living and of working conditions fitting to American citizenship. The American trade union movement is here because it is a necessity.

Unscrupulous Financial Speculation.

The unscrupulous pirateers of finance, having squeezed the consumer throughout the period of the war, are now broadening their field and enriching themselves by squeezing both the producer and the consumer. Fortunes are being made today by commodity and financial speculation.

Flagrant Profiteering Continues.

It is astounding, but true, that even after so great a lapse of time since the ending of hostilities there is, so far as the average family is concerned, practically no reduction in the high cost of living. It is admitted freely that in some commodities there has been a reduction of price in the wholesale markets, but there has been no appreciable reduction in the retail prices at which the working people must make their purchases.

Labor has time after time indicted the employers and the commercial interests of the country for wanton profiteering. We declare again that the government has been and continues impotent in the face of the criminal operations of profiteers and must therefore accept the responsibility for a great portion of the indignation and resentment of the people against those who have filched their pock-

Going hand in hand with profiteering there has been, and is, a shameful and undoubtedly unjustified overcapitalization of industrial and commercial projects, compelling the consuming public to pay interest in the form of inflated prices on vast sums of money, back of which there is no foundation of intrinsic value or productive capacity.

Curtailing Consuming Power.

Due to the maladministration of industry, and principally and primarily because of the studied and calculated arbitrary policies of reactionary employers, there has come upon us a state of unemployment which is depriving fully three and one-half million working people of the opportunity to earn a living. That there should be this tragic situation at a time when hardly any portion of the world has a sufficient supply of the necessaries of life is a commentary upon the methods of those responsible for the conduct of industry which they can not justify. It is a rebuke to their methods which only prompt and fundamental remedial action can remove. The condition of unemployment has been accentuated by keeping open the flood gates of immigration, which has added to the confusion and given employers an additional weapon in their efforts to reduce the American standard of living.

One result is the effort to lower wages. The stupidity of such policies as these, whether or not apparent to employers inspired only by a desire for monetary gain, is a matter which should give the most serious concern to the American people as a whole. Every reduction of wages is a reduction in the consuming power of the wage-earners and a direct blow at the prosperity and well-being of the country.

Labor not only insists upon maintaining the present standards of wages and working conditions but declares its solemn purpose to continue its struggle to further improve those standards. Where the unorganized workers are concerned, while they benefit by the protests and progress of the organized workers, they find themselves unable to meet properly the present crucial situation. Their recourse is to join the organizations of their trades or callings, and we demand for them the right freely to follow such a course and to exercise all of the powers and privileges which that implies. Collective bargaining is one of the great stabilizing influences in industry in the relations between employers and workers. It is censurable that employers have in too many instances dissipated these friendly and mutually advantageous arrangements. We strongly urge upon both employers and unions to keep inviolate the instrumentality of collective bargaining.

Tragic Penalties of Maladministration.

Another manifestation of the unscientific and inhumane policies of industrial autocracy is found in what is commonly known as "labor turnover," which means the repeated hiring and discharging of individual workers without any opportunity for an expression on the part of those workers in determining the terms or the conditions under which they shall give service.

This endless movement of workers from shop to shop, with its inevitable burden of idleness and loss of production, is the individual protest of the unorganized against conditions of employment which they have no power to remedy. Where there is organization of labor and the opportunity for negotiation and agreement, labor turnover is eliminated as a check and drain on industrial life.

Those manifestations of autocratic policy in industry already cited are almost entirely of a purely industrial character. There remain other abuses equally serious, if not more so, finding expression more often through our political machinery. Through reactionary decisions of courts, through the unwarranted and reckless use of the writ of injunction, through laws establishing industrial courts and boards, through compulsory arbitration laws, and through the utter failure of Congress and of state legislative bodies to attempt anything which might serve as a stimulus to labor in these trying times, the welfare of the entire country and, in fact, the stability of many of our democratic institutions are most seriously menaced. These are matters of paramount interest to every American.

Industrial Courts Destroy Freedom.

Through the establishment of industrial courts, employers are seeking to inject into American industrial life a device through which they may annul constitutional guarantees and deprive workers of freedom and of the right to function through their organizations. Aside from the denial of guaranteed rights brought about by the establishment of industrial courts, these instruments serve to create in industry a disharmony which inevitably must result in a chaotic industrial condition and consequent loss of production.

The joint relationship between organized workers and employers which exists when these two industrial forces meet in voluntary conference to reach voluntary agreements is a relationship of negotiation; that which exists when industrial courts are established to determine the conditions in industry is a relationship between litigants—litigants never voluntarily yield a jot. Trade unionism establishes a condition of harmony through mutual effort toward a common purpose, while the industrial court establishes a condition of antagonism, each party in hostile suit against the other and each inevitably hostile toward the court itself when the decision is unfavorable. Industrial courts and the like, created by law, are pernicious devices, the fundamental error of which must become more clear as time passes. The paradox of the situation is that those employers who look upon them as devices for their benefit and who are propagating the idea with the zeal of faddists will, in the long run, suffer equally with labor as a penalty for their shortsightedness.

Injunctions Restore Feudalism.

The revival of the unrestrained use of the injunction also imperils the stability of our economic structure. For six years the Clayton Act, accepted on all sides as the established law of the land, to an appreciable degree checked the abuse of the writ of injunction. A majority of the justices of the Supreme Court have swept away this strong barrier against a feudalistic legal concept and labor finds itself again at the mercy of an unlimited use of judge-made law. The injunction as it is now used and abused in labor disputes is without sanction either in the constitution or in the fundamental law of the land. It is a pure usurpation of power and authority. The only possible and practical remedy in the face of a power so usurped and so completely unjustified lies in a flat refusal on the part of labor to recognize or abide by the terms of injunctions which seek to prohibit the doing of acts which the workers have a lawful and guaranteed right to do, or which seek to compel workers to do those things which they have a lawful and guaranteed right to refuse to do. This is the only immediate course through which labor can find relief and this course it purposes to pursue. Labor realizes fully the consequences of such a course but in the defense of American freedom and of American institutions it is compelled to adopt this course, be the consequences what they may.

The workers maintain that the constitution of the United States is a living document, its provisions and guarantees as applicable today as when they were adopted. The workers maintain that in their everyday life and work rights which the Constitution declares to be inalienable should in practice, as well as in theory, be inalienable. Among these rights is the right to liberty—freedom from involuntary servitude or compulsory labor, except as punishment for crime. This guarantee of the thirteenth amendment lives, and the workers are determined that it shall not be denied them. Nor shall this guarantee of their freedom be so distorted as to compel a group slavery in modern industry as reprehensible as was the individual chattel slavery of old. Slavery, compulsory labor, the tying of men to their jobs, will be no more tolerated now than was chattel slavery then. It has no more right to exist and is just as repugnant under our democratic form of government as it would be under a monarchical, bureaucratic or any other form of government.

The Clayton Act was made law by Congress and by the signature of the President for the express purpose of correcting a condition under which cases such as the Danbury Hatters' case were possible. It was made law for the express purpose of instructing judges in the limitation of their powers. Shortly after placing his signature to the Clayton Act with its labor provisions the President of the United States made the following declaration:

"A man's labor is not a commodity but a part of his life. The courts must not treat it as if it were a commodity, but must treat it as if it were part of his life. I am sorry that there were any judges who had to be told that. It is so obvious that it seems to me as if section 6 of the Clayton Act were a return to the primer of human liberty; but if the judges have to have the primer opened before them, I am willing to open it."

Trade Unions Defend Liberty.

The greatest force in American life capable of restraining predatory capital and to that extent capable of maintaining the democratic institutions of the country is the trade union movement. The trade union movement would be false to its trust, false to the ideals of our Republic and false to the great public whose confidence it must have, as well as false to its own members, whose interests it is organized to protect, if it neglected any proper effort in behalf of the liberty or well-being of the great masses of our people.

To that end this movement of the organized workers sets its face against all forms of compulsion, including such devices as so-called industrial courts, the un-American and repugnant idea of compulsory arbitration and the vicious, tyrannical abuse of the writ of injunction. Through such devices, in addition to the great danger which they constitute to the general public welfare, legislative enactments are set aside so that the organizations of labor may be mulcted, crippled or destroyed. Through such devices voluntary, democratic and constructive organizations of labor are practically outlawed.

Labor Resists Reaction.

However great may be the determination of the institutions of reaction to destroy the organizations of labor by these means, the resistance of labor will be uncompromising and unremitting. The organizations of labor must not and will not be destroyed. Trade unions foster education, uproot ignorance, shorten hours, lengthen life, raise wages, increase independence, develop manhood, balk tyranny, reduce prejudice, protect rights, abolish wrongs, and make the world better.

It should be the purpose of government properly to stimulate our industrial processes. It should be the purpose of government to make voluntary negotiation more easily entered into. If, on the other hand, all of the safeguards set up in our constitutional and legal structure for the protection of the workers are to be destroyed by judicial construction, as the vitality of the Clayton Act has been destroyed, then labor demands the immediate and sweeping repeal of all of that body of laws known as anti-combination and conspiracy laws.

Labor is anxious to serve. It has made this declaration repeatedly. It has lived and practiced that determination. It has done this in the face of most wanton and brutal opposition. Government has given little assistance. It has even destroyed the simplest and most obvious beginning of what might have been an effective employment service. Labor repeats it is time for the immediate and comprehensive restoration of this service.

Fanatical Propaganda and Intrigue.

Converging upon labor from the extreme right is autocratic reaction, while from the opposite extreme is the insidious propaganda of radical European fanaticism, which is particularly and peculiarly deadly in its hatred of the American labor movement because of its democratic character and its steadfast refusal to adopt revolutionary destructive policies. It is a curious and startling fact that this propaganda of fanaticism has the sympathy and support of many of those in our country who style themselves as liberals, but who do not distinguish between that which is truly liberal and that which is destructive and fraudulent.

Because of its opposition to the American labor movement, this overseas propaganda has even secured in the United States the support, at times secret, of some of the most reactionary American employers because of a common antagonism to the trade union movement. There is an unscrupulous and a natural aptitude for intrigue in this fanatical propaganda which makes it a most subtle menace to every democratic ideal and institution in our country.

This propaganda, this constant effort to undermine the constructive organizations of American labor, this constant poisoning of the very foundation of our democracy, finds its expression everywhere and through countless agencies. It is assisted in its work of destruction not only by the publications devoted to a perverted expression of "l i b e r a l" thought, but it is assisted as well by many of those who speak from our platforms and who write and edit our periodical publications and our daily newspapers. Much of this assistance is involuntary and unconscious, which testifies to the subtlety of the propaganda and to the need for constant study and alertness on the part of all those who have at heart the preservation of democratic life in America.

Labor's Purposeful Determination.

In face of the situation here set forth, which is still further embittered by the activities of private detectives and agents provocateur paid by many employers, the American trade union movement, speaking through its duly authorized representatives, offers on the one hand constructive practical suggestions for relief and remedy, and on the other hand utters its uncompromising protest against the injustices and the autocratic policies which reaction seeks to impose. It declares in measured and emphatic tones its unalterable determination to resist at e v e r y point and with its entire strength the encroachments both of industrial tyranny and fanatical, revolutionary propaganda. The American labor movement is determined at all costs to maintain that freedom and those liberties which constitute American democracy. The labor movement believes this policy to be one embodying the highest statesmanship, as the only policy that can preserve and maintain and develop that harmonious relationship in industry without which our productive processes must be sacrificed to a reign of chaotic disorganization. The labor movement offers those voluntary and conciliatory methods of negotiation, arbitration and agreement through which it is possible to develop in our industrial life the highest degree of good will and the highest degree of productivity, in order that there may be for all of our people the fullest enjoyment of life and the loftiest standards of life.

Voluntary Principle is Vital.

The effort to crush the voluntary organizations of the workers may be designed by employers as an effort to secure their own immediate enrichment, but no such effort can stop at that point. Whether its sponsors will it or not, it is an effort to bring upon our whole national organization of society unprecedented disaster and retrogression. The principle of voluntary agreement is the kernel from which has grown the success of this country as a democracy. If that is destroyed in our industrial life, it can not exist in any other phase of our life, and the social organization that has made America must crumble and disappear. Neither the principle of state dictatorship nor the principle of private autocratic dictation in industry can be permitted to gain a foothold in America, for where either of these comes in freedom and democracy must cease to be.

American trade unionists have long since made their choice of principles. Their movement is founded upon the principles laid down in the foundation stones of the republic. It is now for the American people as a people to make a choice. We are confronted with a supreme crisis. Not even in the days when the nation hovered on the brink of war was the situation more critical. The path of progress and constructive peaceful achievement and evolution is laid down by the trade union movement. The road to autocracy, unfreedom and chaos is laid down by its enemies. The choice is now before the country.

This conference calls for public support and recognition of:

The right of the working people of the United States to organize into trade unions for the protection of their rights and interests.

The right to, and practice of, collective bargaining by trade unions through representatives of their own choosing.

The right to work and to cease work collectively.

The right collectively to bestow or withhold patronage.

The right to the exercise of collective activities in furtherance of the welfare of labor.

This conference proposes and urges public support for:

Enactment by Congress of legislation which shall protect the workers in their organized capacity against the concept that there is a property right in the labor of a human being.

No application of the use of injunctions in industrial disputes where they would not apply in the absence of such disputes.

Prohibition of immigration for a period of not less than two years.

More general application of the initiative and referendum in the political affairs of the United States and of our several states.

Removal by Congress of the usurped power of courts to declare unconstitutional laws enacted by Congress.

Election of judges.

Immediate restoration of exemption from or the repeal of all anti-combination and so-called conspiracy laws.

Restoration of an adequate federal employment service.

Administration of credit as a public trust in the interest of all the people.

Repeal by the states of all industrial court laws and all restrictive and coercive laws, including the so-called open port law of Texas, and freedom from decisions of courts holding trade unions and individual members thereof liable in damages for the unlawful acts of others.

Enactment by Congress of a law declaring that labor organizations are not co-partnerships and shall not be so treated in law or in equity.

Investigation by Congress of the activities of so-called private detective agencies in the field of industrial relations.

We urge upon the unorganized workers the urgent necessity of joining the unions of their trades and callings, their haven of refuge and protection.

We call upon the workers to resist the efforts to destroy trade unions, whether by the false pretense of the "open shop," the usurped authority of courts through writs of injunction, or otherwise.

We call upon the trade unions for a closer banding together a greater solidarity and unity of purpose.

We call for united support in the protection of standards of wages and conditions already gained and we summon the workers to continued efforts to increase the consuming power, raise the standards and improve the conditions of life and work.

We call upon the workers and all of our people to give their support, their effort and their combined strength of righteous purpose to this appeal for the preservation of the spirit and the letter of that great declaration which was written to guarantee to all Americans "the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" and freedom from involuntary servitude.

To the above declaration and appeal we, the officers and other representatives of the national and international trade unions of America, assembled in the Executive Council Chamber of the American Federation of Labor, Washington, D. C., February 23, 1921, pledge ourselves and those whom we represent.

MEN AND MONKEYS.

A tribe of monkeys met one day
To settle some disputes
That they had among themselves
Concerning men and brutes;
And, as I chanced to pass that way,
I felt an inclination
To hear what they might have to say,
And got an invitation
To take a seat amongst the rest
And made myself at home.
Among my old relations
That in the forest roam,
Says I to one, "There's some mistake—
Explain it, if you can—
Do you me for a monkey take,
Or call yourself a man?"

Says he, "My friend there's no mistake
As far as we're concerned.
This question rose among you men,
And men that you call learned;
And this is why we meet today—
To talk the matter over;
So hear what we have got to say,
And do not feel so sober."

I took a seat and must confess
I felt a little queer,
To hear what monkeys had to say
Regarding man's career,
And what I saw and heard them say
I'll tell it, verse or prose,
I'll let the muses settle that,
No matter how it goes.
But, let it be in verse or prose,
I'll tell the truth the same,
And if there's aught to give offense
You'll not have me to blame.
'Tis always best to tell the truth,
No matter who it hits—
You need not put the fool's cap on
Unless you find it fits.

It seems these monkeys all had heard
Of Darwin's famous plan,
That from their ancient sires had sprung
The recent race of man.
They sent a delegation out
To learn more of this race,
And found a slight resemblance,
But only in the face.
One monkey rose and told the rest
What he had learned of men,
And if my friends all think it best,
I'll tell it o'er again:

Says he, "I've traveled far and wide,
I've seen wise men and fools;
I've seen them in their churches pray
And seen them in their schools;
I've seen men drink and swear and fight
And tear each other's eyes;
I've heard them tell for solemn truth
The most blasphemous lies;
I've seen men do a thousand things
Too foolish to be told,
And yet they claim to be as wise
As Solomon of old—

In fact, old Solomon himself
Did many a foolish thing,
But people called him very wise
Because he was a king.
A king, though he be born a fool,
Or stupid as an ass,
Will find his most obedient tools
Among the working class.
The workingman will pass resolves
To put oppression down,
Yet crawl and cringe before the king
Because he wears a crown.
They toil and sweat from morn till night,
Until they fill their graves,
To feed a pack of titled drones
Who use them as their slaves."

Another monkey took the floor,
And thus addressed the crowd,
"If a Darwin's story be correct,
You need not feel so proud
To learn that men were monkeys once—
They act like willing asses,
Who carry burdens all their lives,
As do the working classes.
Disgusted with the rule of kings,
And with their cringing tools,
I came to free America,
Where boasted freeman rule;
Where Yankee Doodles fought and bled
To free themselves from kings
I found that their degenerate sons
Were ruled by thieves and rings.
When kings and knaves get up a fight
To settle their disputes,
The workingmen will rush pell-mell
And play the human brutes.
The knaves will then divide the gold,
The fools divide the lead;
And then they shoot each other down,
Till half the fools are dead.
The other half will then go home
And work like willing slaves
To help and pay the war fund off,
And then fill pauper's graves.
When workingmen were in the field,
And fighting brave and bold,
The Wall street thieves, like fiends of hell,
Were gambling in gold.

Men boast of their religion,
And boast of their free schools;
But if we monkeys acted so,
They'd say that we were fools;
And I would say the same myself;
In fact, I'd hide my face,
If we should ever act like men
I'd cease to own my race,
I feel ashamed to tell you how
The workingmen will act;
I scarcely would believe myself
Until I proved the fact,
They spin and weave and make fine things
For lazy drones to wear;
They plow and sow and reap and mow,
And get the smallest share,
And when they've filled the land with wealth,
With scarcely room for more,
The drone will take and pile it up
And keep it all in store.
The workingmen will stand and gaze
And raise the silly cry,
Because we have produced so much
We've got to starve and die,
And those who neither toil or spin
Have plenty and to spare,
They seem to claim a lawful right
To other people's share.
Where'er I went the workingmen
Ne'er stood compact together,
But, ruled by knaves, in party droves,
Made faces at each other.
When Providence is kind to us,
And sends abundant fruits,
We don't go 'round and cry hard times,
As do the human brutes.

We go to work, as monkeys should,
And gather in our store;
Each monkey gets what he has earned
And does not ask for more.
But men have quite revised our plan;
They plunder one another;
Each one stealing all he can,
And brother robbing brother.
And then they go to church and pray
For God to give them grace,
If not, O Lord, then give us gold,
We'll take that in its place.'"

I felt that I was out of place
In such a crowd as that,
But, knowing that they told the truth,
I felt a little flat.
The meeting adjourned sine die,
And I was left behind,
To ponder o'er what I had heard
About the human kind.
And now, my friends, my story ends,
This moral fits the case;
Let workingmen co-operate
And free the human race,
Co-operation leads the way—
The only way to freedom—
The way to rid the earth of drones,
The world no longer needs 'em.
Shake off the chains that bind you down
And stand erect like men;
And if you stumble by the way,
You'll soon get up again,
And if we all co-operate
For labor's true salvation,
The joyful sound will then resound:
"A free and happy nation."

THE COMMON TOUCH.

I would not be too wise—so very wise
That I must sneer at simple songs and creeds
And let the glare of wisdom blind my eyes
To humble people and their humble needs.

I would not care to climb so high that I
Could never hear the children at their play,
Could only see the people passing by,
Yet never hear the cheering words they say.
I would not know too much—too much to smile,
At trivial errors of the heart and hand,
Nor too proud to play the friend the while,
And cease to help and know and understand.

I would not care to sit upon a throne,
Or build my house upon a mountain top,
Where I must dwell in glory all alone,
And never friend come in or poor man stop.

God grant that I may live upon this earth
And face the tasks which every morning brings,
And never lose the glory and the worth
Of humble service and the simple things.

CRAMPS SHIPYARD STRIKE.

(Special Correspondence)

An investigation has been promised by the Navy Department into conditions in the shipyard of the Wm. Cramp Ship & Engine Co., of this city whose employees numbering over 7,000 men and embracing 14 different trades have been on strike for the past ten weeks to preserve the right of collective bargaining won through organization during the war. The interest of the Navy Department in the conditions growing out of this strike is paramount due to the fact that 90 per cent of the contracts upon which the Cramp Co. is working is for that department of the U. S. government. A committee of employees and their advisors were in conference with Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt on the 21st at which time they were assured that the government expected that full value would be returned by the Cramp Co. for every dollar of government funds expended and that no effort on the part of the Company to saddle the expense of breaking the strike would be tolerated. The strikers are hopeful that a fair and thorough investigation may result in a just settlement.

In the meantime the strikers are maintaining the same wonderful solidarity that has existed through the entire struggle. The wholesale arming of strike breakers has been encouraged by the company and a group of strike breakers were recently surrounded by the strikers and disarmed with the result that some 30 revolvers and other weapons were taken from the scabs. The following day squads of police invaded the strike meetings and searched every striker present looking for concealed weapons. Needless to state no arms were found. The hand of the Cramp Co. is seen daily in the acts of the police authorities who have endeavored to frame up the strikers, incite them to riot, spying on strike meetings, etc. Due to the splendid discipline maintained by the strikers all these efforts have thus far failed. Even bandits from the underworld corralled by the police and brought before magistrates after weapons were found in their possession have been discharged from custody upon the bare statement that they were employed as strikebreakers at Cramps. While strikers have been held up and searched for concealed weapons, street cars containing the scabs together with the office forces all of whom are heavily armed travel the streets under the direct protection of the police.

Due largely to the wide publicity given the strike by the labor press the importation of strike breakers has been unsuccessful and the shops and yards are practically depleted of workmen. Of the 7,000 men who came out on strike 10 weeks ago there have been but 25 desertions and by actual count at the end of last week there was a total force of 450 employed most of whom are negroes imported from St. Louis and Chicago.

A commissary has been established and hundreds of orders for rations are being filled each week. In addition free medical service is provided by the Central Strike Committee for sick strikers and their families. Relief committees are engaged daily in preventing evictions of the strikers and their families.

It is agreed that if the same measure of financial support which the strikers have received in the past from other local unions and sympathizers not involved, continues for a short time longer, ultimate victory will be assured. All contributions, large or small, should be sent to H. L. Farrington, Treasurer, Relief Section, Central Strike Committee, Room 823, Heed Bldg., Philadelphia, Pa.

TROUBLED TIMES AHEAD FOR BRITISH LABOR.

(Exclusive Correspondence of "Electrical Workers' Journal.")

The newspapers in this country upon the whole seem to be suppressing as far as possible all news about the terrible unemployment that is prevailing. About the only items they allow to appear are ones that reflect unkindly upon certain groups of unemployed, and they are specially keen upon any instance of a fraud upon the public by an unemployed man with a collecting box for money. Otherwise you might read your newspaper for a week without knowing from it that everything was not prosperous and plain sailing.

As a matter of fact, Government figures of unemployed have been rising week by week, and these official figures alone now show a total of more than a million and a quarter men and women unemployed. It is known, of course, also that there are a large number of others unemployed who are not registered with these employment agencies, and on top of all this comes the great amount of short time that is being worked in an increasing number of factories, works, shops, etc.

Even in coal mining, which seemed to resist the depression more than any other trade, the trouble has now matured and within a few weeks over 100,000 coal miners have been put out of work by the closing down of pits. The Government has raised the unemployed benefit to $4 per week for men and $3.20 a week for women, but has made scarcely any move towards creating supplies of public work to absorb unemployed persons.

The Labor Party years ago provided the Government with a complete scheme for the absorption of all unemployed persons and on work which would not compete with that under the heading of "private enterprise." This work included things like harbor construction, foreshore reclamation, reafforestation, light railway building, and many other things. It is contended these would now absorb hundreds of thousands of men and that these men could be released again from this work whenever "private enterprise" had recovered from its slump and desired bigger supplies of labor once more. In this way a regular balance would be struck with, from the perfect standard, 100 per cent of work offering to the 100 per cent of workers, always such work being supplied either by private employers or the Government in varying proportions as industrial conditions allowed or compelled.

For such men as could not be employed even then owing to accidental circumstances of one sort or another or excessive severity of slump, the Labor Party demanded what was called full maintenance, which meant a donation from the Government of $8 per week for householders, with smaller sums for unmarried individuals.

The Government has practically ignored all plans of State work except the making of arterial roads, which employ on the whole somewhere about 70,000 men, and employ them very badly, owing to the way unsuitable people are pitchforked into this rough, arduous work. For all the rest the Government is prepared to pay now an increase upon its old figure, as above mentioned, namely $4 for men and $3.20 for women respectively.

The Labor Party being a minority in the House of Commons had to sit down and see itself out-voted by the compact band of politicians who follow the Coalition leadership. At the same time the party is taking care that the country shall know its case. This being practically impossible through the columns of the newspapers, excellently written pamphlets are being distributed emanating from that very well informed and well qualified institution, the Labor Research Committee.

With regard to the miners, serious trouble again appears to be threatening. The miners' strike towards the end of last year was settled upon a basis of higher daily pay for miners based upon a higher monthly output of coal. The miners went back to work then with an advance of 40 cents per day, and then worked so hard that they became entitled to another 30 cents per day, and got it. They were proud of their success but it was short-lived. When the February figures came out the shutting down of mines, etc., had caused such a drop in coal production that the whole of the advances secured by the miners in this way were wiped out and they were back to the wages they were earning before the strike—the sliding scale of course operating both ways, that is for wage raises and wage reductions.

The coal owners, however, are looking forward to the end of March, when coal mines are finally freed from Government wartime control. Then they intend to insist upon a big cut in miners' wages. This cut, however, is to be not national but varying according to localities, and this brings the owners right up against a very strong principle of the miners. The union miners contend that miners' wages should be fixed upon a national basis and not vary from coalfield to coalfield. It is known, of course, that some coal areas are better than others and the owners can afford to pay the miners there a higher wage than can coal owners in districts where the coal is harder to get and of poorer quality. The miners insist, however, that if the country wants coal as coal it wants coal produced anyhow and everywhere, and there is no reason why the miners employed in getting coal in a poor district should be paid less than those who get coal in a rich district. Their work is just as hard and their hours as long. Therefore the Miners' Federation of Great Britain stands firmly for the retention of the present national wage system. The employers are going to fight that, not only to bring about a reduction generally in wages but also to compel local variations.

Continuous meetings are taking place between mine workers and the operators and this division of opinion becomes more marked every day. To open the campaign for reducing miners' wages the press of the country is again trotting out all the facts about miners who have been earning fabulous wages up to $5,000 a year. These tales are greedily swallowed by the public, who have no means of checking them; but no evidence is ever offered as to whether these miners exist or not, or whether they are so few as to be infinitesimal. It is well known that in certain mines for certain periods coal getting is so easy and the miners can get out so much mineral that large sums of money can be earned. This, however, is for a period only and never affects a large class of coal getter.

The raid on wages is working up well. Every industry is being threatened in turn with a demand that its workers shall accept lower money. The fact that the cost of living has fallen a small amount is being made plentiful use of and once more the general press of the country rallies to the side of reaction and shows (again without any proof) that industry can never revive unless the working men and working women of the country accept substantially lower wages. To help this along the press prints wonderful accounts of how cheap things are and of great reductions in prices. The average buyer or consumer, however, finds that when he or she tries to take advantage of these big drops they diminish exceedingly and any real improvement in the cost of living is slow and irregular.

At the same time the policy of striking is not favored amongst the unions at present. Former advocates of direct action are noting the conditions of the times and are coming round temporarily to political action. A series of four by-elections has just been held in this country and Labor has lost one of them and won three. This makes about nine seats gained by Labor since the General Election of 1918. The class of labor candidate being returned varies greatly from the moderate types usually prevailing to one or two hot customers getting in here and there. Whichever sort gets into the House of Commons he very soon finds he cannot do a lot there owing, again, to the above-mentioned steady bloc of Government voters who can be relied upon by Lloyd George and Bonar Law to always walk into the right lobby and vote as directed, no matter what the rights or wrongs of the case or the tone of the preceding debate. Still, the Labor Party is gradually increasing its power in the House by these new additions, and the view has been expressed authoritatively that in another General Election at least 150 labor members could be returned easily, which would be a much more effective fighting force than the present 70.

The Irish question always overlaps into the labor question in this country, most labor men being in favor of giving Ireland a measure of independence that would be almost complete. For political motives, apparently, the "almost" has to be dropped in, but the sympathy is very real. Recently one of these numerous shooting affrays that now take place in the Distressful Isle almost led to a railway strike in Great Britain. We have two unions here catering for railwaymen, one confining itself to locomotive engine drivers and their firemen and cleaners whilst the other takes in all grades of railway servants, including many drivers as well.

It appears that at a place called Mallow, in Cork, the Crown forces raided a railway station and shot several railwaymen who happened to be members of the Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen. General Secretary Bromley of that union at once took the matter up and demanded that there should be a full inquiry into these Mallow shootings and not the ordinary court martial hearing, which is regarded as unsatisfactory. The demand for an inquiry was promptly backed up by a threat of a strike which was due to take place in a week's time if the Government did not reply immediately. The Government, to save its face, allowed a day or two to pass and the public got gravely stirred with fears of this strike. Then the inquiry was granted and the strike called off. Evidence is now being taken in the matter, but it is difficult to see what could well result except in the way of propaganda, for the Crown forces are practically always exonerated in these matters.

WHAT HAVE YOU DONE WITH THE OLD MEN?

What have you done with the old men
You've broken by toil and time?
Once they were brave and bold men,
Now they are past their prime,
Now that they're aged and juiceless,
Now that their race is run,
Now that they're weak and useless,
Tell us—what have you done?

Have you made their hard lives rougher
By turning them out, in truth,
To shiver and starve and suffer
In the world that was meant for youth?
Now that they cannot aid you
Nor earn their toiler's wage,
For all that their work has paid you,
How have you dealt with age?

Once they were young and gay men,
Toiling to make you wealth;
Now they are bent and grey men,
Broken in strength and health,
Have you fostered these one time bold men,
Or starved them as some men do?
As you have dealt with the old men
May destiny deal with you.

WHATEVER YOU ARE.

If you can't be a pine on the top of the hill,
Be a scrub in the valley—but be
The best little scrub at the side of the rill;
Be a bush if you can't be a tree.

If you can't be a bush be a bit of the grass,
Some highway to happier make;
If you can't be a muskie then just be a bass;
But be the liveliest bass in the lake.

We can't all be captains, we've got to be crew.
There's something for all of us here;
There's big work to do and there's lesser to do,
And the task we must do is the near.

If you can't be a highway, then just be a trail;
If you can't be the sun, be a star,
It isn't by size that you win or you fail—
Be the best of whatever you are.

Neither Dream Nor Fish Story

To a person of imaginative mind it may seem a dream and to a person of sound judgment and common sense it may sound like a fish story, that $50 invested in 1774 would represent a fortune of $210,000 in 1921. Yet it is neither a dream nor a fish story; it is a fact.

W. F. Morgan of Syracuse, New York recently fell heir to a ten pound note issued by the State of New Hampshire in 1774. When the statisticians had finished figuring what that note was worth with interest compounded yearly at 6%, they announced that Mr. Morgan was heir to a fortune of $210,000.

Few people realize how savings grow when the principal remains intact and quarterly or yearly the interest is added to the principal. When interest is compounded quarterly, the principal grows and grows like the small snowball that the schoolboy starts at the top of a hill and rushing down the hill gaining momentum every second, it becomes five, ten, twenty, forty even eighty times the size of the original snowball, until, were it to come in contact with the small boy who packed it at first, it would crush him by its weight.

Compounded interest doubles, quadruples, octuples the principal in a few years just as the boy's snowball doubles, quadruples and octuples in size in rolling down a hill.

The United States Treasury Department has made it easy for every American earner to start the investment snowball rolling. $4.14 invested in March 1921 becomes $5.00 on January 1, 1926; $20.70 becomes $25.00; $82.80, $100.00; $828.00 $1,000.00. This money invested in Government Savings Securities in the stated amounts yields 4% interest compounded quarterly, the difference in cost price and maturity value representing the interest that accrues.

Postmasters are especially interested in the "investment snowballs" of the United States Treasury Department and they are ready at all times to help any saver and investor to pack the first one and start it rolling.
